A 100-word write-up:

I added in a couple of different particle effects today in class. First off I added the PlayerDamageParticle, that will just summon 30 units of “red” not too creative but I did like the way that it looked. Then I created the PlayerHealingParticle. I used the Bullet sprite for that and changed the starting color of it to be more green so when you collect the apples it does a green sphere around where you were and plays the healing sound. I also added in the banana particle effect and that one spawns the sparkler particle and plays the powerup sound. All of them get smaller as the lifetime of the particle goes on.
