100-Word Writeup: A concise summary (≈100 words) describing your design choices, key features, and what makes your level unique.

I followed along in class today and was able to add in my own spin to a couple of things. For the accessories I was able to add in a character metal headband, mushroom backpack, and saw weapon (placeholder until I find something that I like a little better.) I added in the movement for the player on both arrow keys and letters A and D. I also followed along and was able to attach my camera to the player character and change the movement to the character art rather than the character parent as a whole.
